

Becoming A Nursing Faculty Member in a College Setting: What Should You Know? (NCE304A)

Fact: Working in a clinical setting is not the same as working in a nursing education setting and vice versa. In this day of nursing faculty shortage, the participant can learn more about the organization and expectations of a college setting and employment. This understanding may promote a smoother transition in a new role of nursing faculty member in a part-time, full-time, temporary, permanent, or adjunct position. It may encourage more expert clinicians to consider sharing their knowledge and skills with students through a faculty position. Knowing what key questions to ask during an interview based on organization and expectations can promote success as well.

Contact Hours: 3.0 per session

This program will be held online using Blackboard and Wimba, instructions will be provided.

Wednesday, 5:00 PM to 8:00 PM / 1 class, November 11

Instructor: Dorette Welk PhD, MSN, RN/ $49